TEUTONIC TIDE GOES ONWARD

(By Associated Press.)

Another of Rumania's fortresses has fallen into the hands of the Teutonic allies. Keeping up their intensive forward movement along the railroad line northward into Moldavia, Field Marshal von Mackensen's troops have taken Fokshani and with it nearly 4000 prisoners and some cannon and machine guns.

At last reports the invaders were pursuing the defeated Russians, while in spite of the snow and cold weather the troops of Archduke Joseph of Austria were pressing back the Rumanians eastward into Moldavia between the Putnak and Olutz valleys.

The capture of Fokshani, which lies on the railroad, 45 miles northwest of Galatz, apparently places this important Danube town in great jeopardy.

The Russian war office in its last communication does not mention the capture of Fokshani, but records a repulse of the invaders northwest of the town in the region of Ponticheschi, where they are said to have suffered heavy casualties. The repulse of Teutonic allied attacks at several other places, notably a short distance from where the Buzov river enters into the Serezh, a short distance southwest of Galatz, also is announced.

BUFFALO BILL FACES DEATH CALM AS HE FACED IT A THOUSAND TIMES

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, Jan. 9.—Col. William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") is dying, facing death in the same manner that he had faced it many a time on the plains of the west in conflicts that made his name famous.

The "greatest plainsman the west ever knew" heard the warning words of the approach of the end of his life from Dr. J. H. East, his physician and friend. Col. Cody had summoned the physician to the home of his sister, where he is spending his last hours. When Dr. East walked into his room, Col. Cody said:

"Sit down, doctor, there is something I want to ask you. I want you to answer me honestly. What are my chances?"

Doctor East turned to the scout. "There is a time, Colonel," said he, "when every honest physician must commend his patient to a Higher Power."

Colonel Cody's head sank.

"How long?" he asked, simply.

"I can answer that," said the physician, "only by telling you your life is in the hands of God."

Colonel Cody's head sank.

"How long?" he asked, simply.

SCHOOL COMEDY BY TENNIS CLUB

"The College Town," a rip-roaring comedy, produced by the Tonopah High School Tennis club, is to be staged Friday and Monday nights, January 12th and 15th. Mrs. Brown, the English teacher, and Mr. Cross, the manual training instructor, have been coaching the play for over two months and feel confident of a successful production.

The story deals with the college life of a typical eastern university. The unquenchable college spirit prevails throughout the whole plot, and we can easily picture ourselves once more tearing over the campus before a rally or sitting up till the wee hours cramming for several hours of ex's the next day, or escorting some fair college co-ed to a college dance. The exquisite essence of these days comes back to us as we see the plot of "The College Town" unfolded before our eyes.

The cast has been carefully selected from the best local talent, both in the high school and in the town.

Tickets are on sale now for 25c and 35c and may be obtained from the high school students now or at the door of the gymnasium on the nights of the play. Adv. J9-41

PYTHIANS INSTALL THEIR NEW OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of Mizpah lodge, No. 26, K. of P., at their castle hall last evening, District Deputy Grand Chancellor F. A. Macduff, assisted by Geo. L. Dilworth, acting grand prelate, and B. M. Bateman, acting grand master at arms, installed the following officers for the ensuing term: S. P. Knight, chancellor commander; Sam Fenley, vice chancellor; Geo. Schmid, prelate; Geo. J. Lewis, master of work; Wharton Anderson, keeper of records and seal; C. G. Bevis, master of finance; C. D. Ziegler, master of exchequer; Wesley Gourdier, master at arms; James Heron, inner guard; S. Perkins, outer guard.

After the installation ceremonies Charley Bevis took the chair and acted as master of the social ceremonies.

The first number to respond to the call was the Walker Symphony club. They rendered several excellent compositions and received numerous encores. W. G. Walker manipulated the first mandolin; Louis Nelson, second mandolin; H. M. Stoesbury, first guitar, and P. E. Chandler, second guitar. No doubt these gentlemen will have numerous calls at coming entertainments before the winter months have gone.

Mrs. Bateman rendered a vocal solo. Miss Viola Hunt and Miss Louise Dilworth each gave pleasing instrumental solos on the piano. Speaking and toasts too numerous to mention followed, after which the master of ceremonies called on his pages of honor to serve the guests at the banquet board.

Dancing followed and the session did not close up till a late hour.

The preliminary reel is Burton Holmes travels, "In Modern Athens." Tomorrow is the big picture, a seven-reel feature, a two-hour show, "The Common Law," by Robert W. Chambers, featuring Clara Kimball Young, who is now at the head of her own company.
